

TERMS OF THE COPYRIGHT TRANSFER

By submitting your full paper to be published in the ICSV26 Proceedings you agree to transfer copyright of your paper and its abstract to the International Institute of Acoustics and Vibration (IIAV). You still reserve the following rights:

1. All proprietary rights other than copyright, such as patent rights;
2. The right to use all or part of the paper and/or abstract in compilations or other publications by the author(s), provided they mention or cite the publication in the ICSV26 Proceedings; and to make copies of all or part of such material for the author's use for lecture or classroom purposes;
3. The right, after publication in the ICSV26 Proceedings, to grant or refuse permission to third parties to republish all or part of the paper or translations thereof. In the case of whole papers, such third parties must obtain written permission from the IIAV as well. However, such permission will not be refused by IIAV except at the discretion of the author. IIAV may grant rights with respect to the ICSV26 Proceedings as a whole;
4. If the paper has been prepared by an employee within the scope of his or her employment, the employer reserves the right to make copies of the work for its own internal use. If the paper was prepared under a U.S. Government contract, the government shall have the rights under the copyright to the extent required by the contract.

The author(s) agree that all copies of the ICSV26 paper and/or abstract made under any of the above reserved rights shall include a copyright notice in IIAV's name. The author(s) represent and warrant that the paper is original and that it does not infringe any copyright or other rights in any other work, or violate any other rights, and that the author(s) own the copyright on it or are authorized to transfer it.